Project Start Date: 1/1/2007

Project Completion Date: 31/12/2008

Project Description

The main activity of this project is to undertake an environmental and cultural audit of current land use practices involving sites of Aboriginal cultural-spiritual significance in the Yued Region, which significantly overlaps the representative area of the NACC. A shortlist of 20 sites per annum to be audited will be determined by the values and knowledge of the Yued Traditional Owners, as represented by the Yued NRM Advisory Group, in conjunction with relevant experts. Audit activities will enhance proactive and proper management of spiritual-natural resources on Country.

Collection of baseline environmental data as well as cultural information will support flow-on effects of the project, such as environmental assessment, planning, on-ground works, increased capacity, and institutional change, and community cohesion. Two management plans will be prepared per annum for selected sites of those audited.
